PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Introduction

The Baltimore City Department of Housing & Community Development (“DHCD”), acting on behalf of the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, is issuing this Request for Proposals (“RFP”) in search of interested development teams to act as the developer for 811 W. Lanvale Street. The available site, a two-story building, is formerly the Upton Mansion and is a historic treasure with an amazing view of Downtown Baltimore. Originally built as a dwelling, this building was later adapted for school use in the late 1950s. Located within the Old West Baltimore National Register Historic District, this site is a registered local landmark. Exterior changes require approval from the Baltimore City Commission for Historical and Architectural Preservation (CHAP). This building offers more than 10,000 square feet of developable space and is nestled on a lot size of more than 35,000 square feet.

The City of Baltimore is seeking a qualified developer or development team that:

- Possesses significant experience in urban revitalization initiatives.
- Has a track record of community partnerships and leveraging homeownership programs and incentives.
- Demonstrates capacity and experience with development. The successful respondents must have the financial and organizational capacity to successfully implement and complete the project within a timely period.

Emergency stabilization was performed in 2019 on 811 W. Lanvale. The following work was performed: Point up chimneys on roof, rebuild interior stairs to chimney, repair roof, secure retaining wall, remove trees from site, point up bricks on carriage house, and shore-up beams.

Neighborhood Description and Features

Historic Upton has all of the ingredients to be a thriving, successful neighborhood. It features great housing stock, livable streets, proximity to employment, cultural centers, and quick access to five train stations within a short walk or drive. Upton, a neighborhood of approximately 60 square blocks, is located in central west Baltimore bounded by the neighborhoods of Madison Park, Druid Heights, Sandtown-Winchester, Harlem Park, Heritage Crossing, and Seton Hill. Its northernmost boundary is Bloom Street, easternmost boundary is Madison Avenue, southernmost boundary is George Street, and western boundary is N. Fremont Avenue. The neighborhood has diverse housing options that include two and three-story brick rowhomes, three-story apartment complexes, and high-rise apartment buildings. Upton has several recreation amenities such as Upton Boxing Center, Robert C. Marshall Park, and Shake & Bake Family Fun Center. Residents of the Upton neighborhood have fairly easy access to public transit options including the Upton Metro Station at the southern corner of Laurens Street and Pennsylvania Avenue. There is also convenient access to I-83 to the north and I-95 to the south.

Site Description

Constructed in 1838, the Upton Mansion, located at 811 West Lanvale Street, is a significant piece of architecture as it is a rare surviving 19th century Greek Revival country house. The mansion, which is two blocks east of historic Lafayette Square in West Baltimore, is a contributing structure in the Old West Baltimore National Register Historic District. It was added to the City's historic landmark list in 2008, and was included in the 2009 list of the most endangered buildings in the State by Maryland Magazine and Preservation Maryland. This property contributes to the Old West Baltimore National Register Historic District and may be eligible for a Baltimore City Historic Tax Credit; Maryland Sustainable Community Rehabilitation Tax Credit; and Federal Rehabilitation Tax Credit.

Currently, the building is Zoned R-8 which is meant to accommodate single-family units in both detached and semidetached dwellings, rowhouse developments, and multi-family developments of a moderate density. For more information, see the zoning code.

Community Vision and Participation

In 2018, the Upton Planning Committee, Inc. updated its neighborhood Master Plan. The plan lays out a vision and intent for various sections of the neighborhood, including this site. The 2026 Upton Master Plan proposes specific goals, objectives, and strategies across the seven core components of community economic development that emerged from discussions with residents, businesses, and stakeholders, and conversations with local government agencies. Learn more about the Upton Master Plan.
